2017 Oncofertility Conference Support Opportunities

The Oncofertility Consortium explores the reproductive future of cancer survivors. We bring together academics, health care providers, and community leaders from across the country to expand current knowledge, clinical practice, and training for a wide spectrum of issues in oncofertility.

Since 2007, the Oncofertility Consortium has built a community of professionals in reproductive medicine, oncology, materials science, bioethics, and religion through an online enterprise that receive more than 40,000 views per year, Virtual Grand Rounds that attract participants from across the globe, and an annual conference with more than 250 attendees last year.

Join the Oncofertility Consortium and participate in the 2017 Oncofertility Conference. This year’s themes include pregnancy and cancer, sexual health, and quality of life issues. The Oncofertility Consortium will promote the Conference throughout the year and your support will be recognized prior to and during the event. Your support can help you establish a powerful presence and make critical connections with key decision-makers in the research and clinical fields of oncofertility. Each level offers a variety of benefits, visibility, and return on your investment.
