Dear Friends,

We are working diligently to ensure that the 2012 Oncofertility Conference in September is the source for all things cancer and fertility related. Not ones to leave anyone out, we are offering programming that caters to clinicians, researchers, and advocates. If you haven't already, please visit our website and see what we have in store for this exciting upcoming event!

In this issue, we'll spotlight an upcoming Virtual Grand Rounds, announce the latest book in the oncofertility series, and share information about an event benefitting the young adult cancer community.

As always, stop by our website to get all the latest information on cancer and fertility and check out our blog, voted one of the top 100 health blogs of 2011!

Sincerely,

The Oncofertility Consortium

In the Spotlight...

Don't miss out on the July 12th Virtual Grand Rounds with Jose Ricardo de Figueiredo, PhD, DVM, leading a discussion on, "Advances in Goat Artificial Ovary." If you are unable to tune in that day, remember that we will post all of the presentations on our website within one week of the original broadcast. Visit the Media section at The Oncofertility Consortium to see what you may have missed!
The Relationship Between Pain, Opioids, and Hormonal Side Effects in Cancer Patients

Teal Diva Shares Her Story of Cancer, Fertility, and Resilience

Follow Us:

July 31st: Oncofertility Medical Practice: Clinical Issues and Implementation

The Oncofertility Consortium is proud to announce the upcoming release of the 3rd book in the oncofertility book series, available for purchase on July 31st!

This book explains the latest practices and emerging treatments in oncofertility and provides necessary information on the successes, risks, and limitations of fertility preserving technologies. Authoritative and insightful, written by a multi-disciplinary group of specialists, this book is a valuable resource for all those practicing in the emerging field of oncofertility!

Click here to pre-order your copy of Oncofertility Medical Practice: Clinical Issues and Implementation, on Amazon today!

True North Treks and the 1st Annual Chicago SUP YACS Classic

Arising from the need to connect young cancer survivors (AYA's) with one another, nature, and themselves, sprang True North Treks (TNT). TNT is an organization that supports young adults by taking them on short term treks in nature that focus on learning mindful awareness practices, connection to other survivors, and the beauty and balance of the great outdoors.

An upcoming event that TNT is co-sponsoring for AYA's is the 1st Annual Chicago SUP YACS Classic (Stand-Up Paddleboard and Race, Ride, and Glide for Young Adult Cancer Survivors). This event is taking place on July 29th in Chicago, IL, at Montrose Beach and is open to the public. There is even a stand-up paddleboard clinic near the race start for those who have never been on a stand-up paddleboard, but would love to give it a try. There is a small registration fee for this event, which will go toward programming for young adults with cancer.

To learn more about True North Treks and this inaugural event, please stop by our blog.
Thank you for reading our latest newsletter! Please contact Program Manager, Angie Krausfeldt, at a-krausfeldt@northwestern.edu with any suggestions, comments or if you are interested in contributing to our blog.